

Kate and Patrick's LUNCH list

- 1. Markthalle: Fancy food court. Take-away and sit-down. Lots of ethnic foods.
- 2. Grosse Schanze Restaurant: Nice cafeteria with good views of the mountains. Tends to be crowded. On the terrace overlooking the city.
- 3. Uni Mensa: University dining hall open to public. Not super cheap without employee discount (given the food . . um . . quality). Follow all the people upstairs. Take-away snack bar downstairs (good fries there).
- 4. Name?: Nice coffee shop on the corner.
- 5. Pepe's: Italian deli. Outstanding panini.
- 6. King's Kabob: Turkish restaurant. Take away and sit-down. Owner is super nice. Can be slow.
- 7. Restaurant Beulieu: Pricy sit-down. Swiss food.
- 8. Casa D'Italia: Basic pastas and pizza. Reasonably priced daily specials. Service can be slow.
- 9. Curry Legend: Sit-down Sri Lankan food. Can be slow, but good.
- 10. Hallerladen: Organic grocery with sandwiches, yogurt, etc.
- 11. Name?: Middle eastern take-out with great vegetarian choices.
- 12. Mahamaya: Indian eat-in (but crowded) or take-away. 3 daily choices.
- 13. Mappamondo: Basic Italian cafeteria. Cheap. Good for large groups. Great tiramisu and espresso (order from waitress after getting main lunch at cafeteria counter). Enter through glass doors to the right of the main restaurant entrance.
- 14. Migros: Grocery on ground floor. Cafeteria on 1st floor (up escalators). Good for large groups. Cheap. Lots of Swiss food.
- 15. Name?: Italian restaurant. Local hang-out for regulars. Football games on at night. Good homestyle Italian.
- Bahnhof (train station): There's also lots of take-away in the Bahnhof and an all-vegetarian cafeteria, Tibits (expensive, crowded, but yummy).

Note that all restaurants serve lunch from about 11:00 to 15:00 then close. Most of the restaurants listed above are not open for dinner, except for 6, 7, 8, and 15, which open for dinner around 18:00 or 19:00. See Dinner Map for places in town to go for dinner.
