

Rotational phenomena in the Saturnian magnetosphere

*Meeting #1 Draft Agenda
26 - 30 October, 2015, Bern*

Monday

0900: Introduction (D. Andrews): Brief round-table discussion: what do you want to get out of this meeting?

Presentations from team members (Monday and Tuesday), with plenty of time for discussions to develop.

- ~45 minute presentations
- Review your work on this topic - pick out the important results, and bring everyone up-to-speed with your area of expertise.
- A few very basic / introductory slides
- How do your results fit with those from other observations?
- What are the outstanding unknowns / inconsistencies as you see them?
- Overview of data sets you are prepared to share with the team
- On-going / future research plans

The order of talks will be decided nearer the time, or on the day, to keep things flexible.

1700: Welcome to ISSI / ice-breaker (If ISSI still organise such things?)

Tuesday

0900: Continuation of talks from Monday

then: Round table discussion - planning of activities for Weds & Thursday

1600: First telecon summary session, covering the first two days (D. Andrews)

Evening: Team dinner? Location TBD.

Wednesday

0900: Quick recap / outline for the day

0930 - 12:00: Breakout into smaller groups, and actively work on a problems identified (preliminary data analysis / theoretical discussions?)

12:00: "Free afternoon" for those who want to see more of Bern / triage their inboxes etc.

Thursday

0900: Continued breakout activities from Wednesday

1500: Reconvene, and summarise any progress / results / issues encountered

1600: Final telecon summary

Friday

0900:

- Further open discussions.
- Possibilities for a second meeting
- Coordination of studies
- Contributions to open meetings (AGU, EGU, ...)
- Any other business

~1200: Meeting closes.

Telecon sessions

My preference is to use google hangouts. Below is a permanent link to the session we will use, which you should be able to 'join' by clicking on it. It is active the whole time, so you can also use it to test your connection should you wish to. However, I am not 100% certain that this will function at ISSI, and I will check when I arrive:
